Our subject is “Volunteerism” Lets start with our dejure Constitution of 1781 and your state’s constitution; these documents were written under what’s known as the American common law. This common law source was based on the bible laws and had its own court system as a jury of the county, no judges involved, just the Sheriff and juries to uphold the peoples laws.. So you were judged by the people of your county. This system was based on the people being sovereign not a debtor that means the people owned their land, labor, substance like gold and silver money. This system worked from 1774 up to 1920 as contracted and agreed to by the sovereign people of America. See there are other types of laws one can enter into by CONTRACT, the other types are admiralty, maritime, equity, civil Rights or marital law rule / emergency law forms. Sometimes these types of laws are mixed together also. So one could be protected by the common law or contract outside the common law and not be protected. This means one would have to volunteer by contract or pledge to take one outside the common law protections. Our country started to experience another type of law form at the end of the Civil War called marital law rule by civil codes of the 14th amendment 1868. Up to the 14th amendment emergency law would only last as long as the emergency, but after the 14th amendment the emergency law would become permanent to rule those not a sovereign citizens of their state. Could a sovereign citizen contract outside his protection form called common law YES, it is done by the sovereign not knowing he is sovereign and by his silent consent (Signature or actions) he contracts into this other law form not knowing who he is. So when one looks at Birth certificates, driver licenses, licenses of any kind even citizenship, one is volunteering into another form of law not understanding or knowing of it. Can one do this, yes, look to Article 1 section 10 of your national constitution and it is in your state constitution too! Remember God gave you freedom of choice, choice without knowledge of what you are doing will Alou you to loose your freedom of choice by contract or your actions. You have to know how to contract and express your rights in any contract to keep your rights for if you do not express it in the contract you loose it in today’s law form of marital law rule by civil code. OUR LAW FORM HAS CHANGED FROM OUR FOUNDING FATHERS AND YOU ARE THE LAST TO KNOW IT, SO NOW YOU’RE INFORMED AND SHOULD UNDER STAND THAT YOU’RE SILENCE ON CONTRACTS ALLOWS THEM TO RULE YOU.
